

FULL FRIDAY SCHEDULE
Farm to School Summit, 2019:
Working Together in Farm to School
hosted by Farm to School Coalition of NC
and launching the Inaugural Farm to School Awards of NC

Friday, September 20th
Summit
500 S. Salisbury St, Raleigh, NC 27601

FRIDAY FULL SCHEDULE

8-9am            Registration and Breakfast (breakfast continues through the break)
Meeting Area North

9-9:30am       Welcome and Who is in the Room?
306 Ballroom

All day            info table gallery
hosted by The Farm to School Coalition of NC Steering Committee and their organizations
Explore impacts and future plans for the NC Crunch, The Summit, the Awards, The Census, forthcoming workshop opportunities, and more.

Activity rooms

9:30-12:30      Demos, Displays, and Hands-on Activities
These activity rooms will provide displays and resources as well as hands-on activities and demonstrations. Staffed by practitioners from multiple organizations, come try some activities yourself, taste a sample, plant an herb, and ask questions from the folks who do it day in, day out as well as those developing resources at the state-level.

Gardening & Composting for Classrooms and Schools

hosted by NC4H, Wake County Cooperative Extension, Rhonda Sherman from the NCSU Composting Learning Lab, Guilford County Cooperative Extension, North Carolina Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, and FoodCorps NC

Cooking & Taste Tests with Students

hosted by, ASAP/Growing Minds, CEFS/Farm to ECE Collaborative, FIG (Food Insight Group), and FoodCorps NC

9:30-9:45       Break

Concurrent Sessions

9:45-11:00      Local Food on the Line: Share Outs from School Nutrition Directors
Ruth McDowell, Edgecombe School Nutrition, Janette Broda, Asheville City School Nutrition, Heather Barnes, NCDA Farm to School Program, and Braedyn Mallard, Farmer Food Share School Nutrition Directors and distribution experts will share the various ways they get local food into school cafes, the easiest ways to start, what direct relationships with farmers can bring, how promotions and connections to other Farm to School efforts increase the impact.

Racial Equity in Farm to School Curriculum

Ronda Bullock, Executive Director for We Are

Join us to learn about tools and strategies to assess, revise, and develop new or current curriculum and activities from a racial equity lens. This workshop is interactive so we encourage you to bring an existing activity or module to revise or a new idea to work with!

Jr Chef Competition: *Will Your Students be the Next N.C. Jr. Chef Top Team?

Tracey Bates, Department of Public Instruction; Kim Davis, Jose Burgos, and Imanol Arteage from Hobpton High; and Erica Hoskins from Apex High School

Participation in the N.C. Jr. Chef Competition offers an unprecedented opportunity to translate skills learned in the classroom to real-world kitchens, developing recipes to be featured on future school menus across the state. In this way, the Jr. Chef Competition fulfills the goals of inspiring the next generation of culinary professionals, stimulating interest in locally produced agriculture, increasing participation in School Nutrition Programs, providing nutrition education, and encouraging healthy eating habits. Want your students to be a part of this exciting opportunity? Come to this session to learn best practices for participation and hear success stories from finalist teams selected to participate in the cook-off. We might tempt your taste buds and will definitely inspire you to help us find the next top NC Jr. Chefs.

11:00-11:15 Break

Concurrent Sessions

11:15-12:30 Farm Visits and Farmer Connections: Share Outs from Farmers and Teachers

Julius Tillery of Black Cotton, Amber Bell of Sankofa Farms, Melissa Amoabeng of the Durham HUB Farm, and Zoe Carmon-Rogers of CEFS Agroecology Education Apprentice

Discuss with both farmers and ag educators how and why kids of all ages need to be connected to farms and farmers. Hear about an array of programming and share ideas for how to develop something that builds on your local resources and network of farmers.

Youth Leadership in farm to school

Ayn Corrigan of Inter-Faith Food Shuttle and Nathalie Kauz

Come get a sneak peak of a youth-led community organizing garden resource that will be shared out at the October Youth Food Security Summit. Learn from these Service Member alums of FoodCorps and practice developing strategies for truly youth-driven work.

NC K-12 Culinary Institute: Teaching Forward for Smarter Meals and Successful Students

Susan Thompson of North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, and Lauren Weyand and Adrian Jones of Craven County School Nutrition

The NC K-12 Culinary Institute aids local School Nutrition programs to purchase, prepare and serve fresh, locally-grown produce. Come learn more about the skills, techniques, recipes, and resources institute graduates teach forward in their Local Education Agencies.

12:30-2:30pm LUNCH and Awards Ceremony plus announcements for next year
special guest musical performance by the students of Dillard Academy, Goldsboro, NC

2:15-2:45 Break

2:45-4:00 Weather Emergencies and the role of f2s

Calvin Allen and Erin Carson of Rural Forward, Jose Godinez of NC Field, and Amy Stanley of Bladen County School Nutrition

Schools and School Nutrition are consistently at the forefront of disaster recovery efforts, farmworker support organizations are the most impactful in preparation and response, and grass-roots efforts are always at the core of community resilience. Might F2S relationships among each other be leveraged to further minimize hardship or strengthen response?.

Your Local Food Councils and Farm to School

Rochelle Sparko, Carolina Farm Stewardship Association and Ashley Heger, Orange County Food Council

Hear multiple ways local food councils can and are supporting farm to school, plus learn strategies for educating and advocating at the local level for Farm to School support. This session will name the benefits to both Farm to School practitioners and food councils collaboratively engaging in Farm to School.

Local Foods Curricula: Teaching Resources

Jodi Riedel of Wakefield High, Megan Sedaghat of Swift Creek Elementary, Liz Driscoll of North Carolina State 4H, Reno Palombit of NC Department of Public Instruction

Educators will share a variety of curricula and instructional resources and methods to promote teaching young people about local food. From elementary to high school, Extension to Career and Technical Education, these resources will provide you with tools and strategies to reach across disciplines to increase food literacy.

4:00

*drop off name tags and Depart
THANK YOU!!*